Part III Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Check if Schedule O contains a response to any question in this Part III Yes No

1 Briefly describe the organization's mission:

Conservancy promotes, improves, develops, facilitates & defends Free, Libre, and Open Source Software (FLOSS) projects and provides a non-profit home & infrastructure for FLOSS projects. Conservancy directly handles many key tasks & urgent needs for its projects -- mostly created by volunteer software developers. Conservancy helps developers focus on improving FLOSS for the public. Projects include: education software for schools, integrated library service systems, and embedded software for electronic devices.

2 Did the organization undertake any significant program services during the year which were not listed on the prior Form 990 or 990-EZ? Yes No

If "Yes," describe these new services on Schedule O.

3 Did the organization cease conducting, or make significant changes in how it conducts, any program services? Yes No

If "Yes," describe these changes on Schedule O.

4 Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported.

4a (Code:) (Expenses $ 440,152 including grants of $) (Revenue $ 2,907)

FLOSS development, documentation, mentoring, & project support: During the tax year, Conservancy engaged 16 different software developers as independent contractors to improve the software in its Mercurial, jQuery, PyPy, and Twisted projects. This work generated many thousands of new lines of software code. The code was released freely to the public under copyright licenses that encourage the general public to use, share, & modify it. These contractors also worked diligently with the community to coordinate volunteer software developers to contribute further software code. In addition to these 16 contracts, 30 other developers mentored student software developers during a summer participation program. These developers helped the students get involved with FLOSS development and contribute new code to the projects. In addition to helping students improve their software development skills, their new code was also made available to the public, as described above. Finally, Conservancy staff assists volunteers in our projects on a daily basis to acclimate to and make best use of the services available from a non-profit fiscal sponsor, including our full range of services listed at <https://sfconservancy.org/members/services/>, which include administrative, coordination, legal, and infrastructural assistance to volunteer software developers.

4b (Code:) (Expenses $ 264,803 including grants of $) (Revenue $ 183,183)

Facilitating FLOSS conferences: During the tax year of 2012, Conservancy planned, organized and ran one conference each for its Boost, Evergreen, and Selenium projects. Additionally, Conservancy coordinated and funded three additional small events, called "code sprints" for its Mercurial and PyPy projects. These events allow the projects to speak about their work to the general public, teach the general public how to use and improve their software, and generally promote the projects. Additionally, these conferences provide an opportunity for software developers to meet and rapidly work closely together to make improvements to the software, and release those improvements to the general public. Additionally, Conservancy also sent various project volunteers and staff to over thirty third-party conferences in related fields. At those conferences, these volunteers and staff spoke about the work of Conservancy and the work of its projects, answered questions from the public, and advised projects and other tax-exempt 501(c)(3) organizations that have goals similar to Conservancy's.

4c (Code:) (Expenses $ 70,028 including grants of $ 23,515) (Revenue $)

License Compliance Activity: Many of Conservancy's projects are available under "copyleft" licenses, such as the GNU General Public License (GPL). "Copyleft" licenses are copyright licenses which allow everyone to freely share, copy, modify, and install modified versions of the software, but "copyleft" licenses additionally require that everyone who receives the software has an equal right to engage in those activities. Conservancy identifies situations where distributors fail to meet those requirements. Conservancy then enforces the copyright license, thereby requiring these distributors to provide the same rights to copy, share, modify & install modified versions of the software to all those who receive the software distribution, just as those distributors had initially received those rights. Through this process, Conservancy ensures that the general public has equal rights to use, improve, & study the software, and to experiment with their own modifications to the software. Rarely, in particularly egregious cases of GPL violation, Conservancy does seek remedy in the courts through copyright litigation. The primary goal of all these copyright enforcement activities is always to ensure that all who receive copies of the copylefted software (or modified versions thereof) can freely engage in copying, modifying, improving & installing modified versions of the software.

4d Other program services (Describe in Schedule O.)
(Expenses $ 13,134 including grants of $) (Revenue $ 368)

Form 990, Part I, Line 2 and Part IV, Line 32:

Conservancy's net assets were reduced by 29.2% in this tax year. However, that reduction in net assets was not due to the sale, exchange, disposition, nor transfer of assets, but was instead due to expenses, grants, and other assistance made in the ordinary course of Conservancy's exempt activities to accomplish Conservancy's exempt purposes.

FORM 990, Part III, Line 4d - Other Program Services Description:

Other Miscellaneous Program Services: Expenses: $13,134 Revenue: $368

Additionally, Conservancy performed other essential non-profit services for FLOSS projects. These include, but are not necessarily limited to: Internet hosting & bandwidth costs, computer equipment and hardware to facilitate software development, advising FLOSS projects on how to make use of non-profit resources and other incidental expenses incurred by FLOSS projects.

FORM 990, PART V, LINES 7(a-b):

Conservancy received some payments in the forms of conference sponsorship payments and conference registration fees. For registration fees, and in the instances where Conservancy also gave conference sponsors some substantial benefit, Conservancy treated the portion of the payment equal to the fair market value of the benefit as related business income. The remainder was treated as a contribution. As of January 2013, Conservancy (a) sends automated emails to conference registrants to inform them of the amount that was treated as a contribution, and (b) includes the amount that was treated as a contribution on the invoices sent to conference sponsors and conference registrants who pay via invoice.

FORM 990, PART VI, SECTION A, LINE 1(a):

Conservancy's Board of Directors chartered an Evaluation Committee, and delegates to that Committee the authority to evaluate FLOSS projects that have applied to join Conservancy. The Evaluation Committee is authorized to engage with prospective member projects and make recommendations to the Board as to which projects Conservancy should accept. Prior to 30 January 2013, Conservancy's Board retained ultimate authority to approve the addition of new FLOSS projects. On 30 January 2013, Conservancy's Board of Directors rechartered the Evaluation Committee, and delegated to the Committee full authority to evaluate and add new FLOSS projects without direct Board approval. During the tax year, the following people served on Conservancy's Evaluation Committee:

Jeremy Allison, Tom Callaway, Loïc Dachary, Mark Galassi, Mike Hostetler, Bradley M. Kuhn, Mike Linksvayer, Martin Michlmayr, Evan Prodromou, Karen Sandler, Tony Sebros

Sebros is on staff, but is not a Director. Sandler is an Officer, but is not a Director. Hostetler, Prodromou, & Michlmayr are not Directors.

Name of the organization Software Freedom Conservancy, Inc.	Employer identification number 41-2203632

FORM 990, PART VI, SECTION B, LINE 11(B) - Form 990 Review Process:

Before Conservancy files a 990, a final draft is submitted to the Board of Directors for review. The Directors then review discuss and it at their next meeting. Conservancy requires its Directors to vote to approve the 990 before it is filed. The vote is conducted under the usual rules in the organization's by-laws regarding Board actions.

FORM 990, PART VI, SECTION B, LINES 12, 13, 14:

The Board of Directors formally adopted and consented to Conservancy's Conflict of Interest, Whistleblower, and Document Retention policy on 16 March 2012. Conservancy's policy is to remind the Board annually that the Conflict of Interest policy is in effect and any conflicts must be disclosed at each Directors' meeting. Volunteers who help Conservancy select contractors for Conservancy are required to adhere to the Conflict of Interest policy, and those with potential conflicts are recused from the process.

FORM 990, PART VI, SECTION B, LINE 15:

All full-time employees (including any key employees or full-time compensated officers) receive the same paid-time-off, medical, vision and dental benefits package (which includes employee-selectable options). That benefits package, and changes thereto, are discussed and approved by the Board of Directors. Cost of living adjustments (COLAs) are generally given annually to all employees. These are determined using the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Consumer Price Index (CPI). These COLAs are approved by the Board of Directors as a part of annual budget approval. Any employee serving on the Board of Directors recuse themselves from that vote.

FORM 990, PART VI, SECTION B, LINE 15a - Compensation Review & Approval Process for CEO, Executive Director or Top Management:

In September 2010, prior to Kuhn's hire in January 2011 as Executive Director, Kuhn presented to Conservancy's Board a compensation package proposal. Kuhn left the meeting while the Board reviewed, discussed, considered, and voted to approve Kuhn's compensation package. Part of Kuhn's presentation included a spreadsheet which calculates the average CEO/Executive Director salaries at 35 different non-profit organizations in related fields. The Board set Kuhn's salary at well below that average. The spreadsheet is publicly available at: <http://ur1.ca/gdaa6>

That spreadsheet has been regularly updated with newer information from those 35 organizations, including Conservancy itself.

All changes in Kuhn's compensation or benefits since January 2011 have been presented to and approved by Conservancy's Board. Kuhn leaves the meeting while any proposed change in his compensation package is discussed and voted on.

FORM 990, PART VI, LINE 19 - Other Organization Documents Publicly Available:

Conservancy's Form 990s, auditor reports, articles of incorporation & by-laws are always available on Conservancy's website.

Conservancy's articles of incorporation. Any other official Conservancy policy are available upon request.

FORM 990, PART VII, LINE (5)(F): $24,566 is payments of Kuhn's health and dental insurance premiums during the tax year.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors of Software Freedom Conservancy, Inc.

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of Software Freedom Conservancy, Inc., the statement of financial position as of February 28, 2013, the related statements of activities, cash flows and functional expenses for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit. I conducted my audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, I express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Software Freedom Conservancy, Inc., as of February 28, 2013, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Report on Summarized Comparative Information

I have previously audited Software Freedom Conservancy, Inc. 2012 financial statements, and my report dated January 25, 2013, expressed an unmodified opinion on those audited financial statements. In my opinion, the summarized comparative information presented herein as of and for the year ended February 29, 2012 is consistent, in all material respects, with the audited financial statements from which it has been derived.

Note 1 - Nature of Activities and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Activities

The Software Freedom Conservancy (Conservancy) is a not-for-profit organization that helps promote, improve, develop, and defend Free, Libre, and Open Source Software (FLOSS) projects. Conservancy provides a non-profit home and infrastructure for FLOSS projects. This allows FLOSS developers to focus on what they do best — writing and improving FLOSS for the general public — while Conservancy takes care of the projects' needs that do not relate directly to software development and documentation.

FLOSS projects whose applications are accepted become part of the Software Freedom Conservancy (akin to a separate department of a large agency). Once joined, the "member project" receives most of the benefits of existing as a non-profit corporate entity without engaging in the arduous work of forming a separate, new organization. Conservancy aggregates the work of running a FLOSS non-profit for its many members.

The Conservancy provides many important services for its member projects. Member projects can take directed donations, which allows donors to earmark their donations for the benefit of a specific FLOSS project. Conservancy provides fiscal oversight to ensure that these funds are spent in a manner that advances the project and fits with Conservancy's 501(c)(3) mission to promote, advance, and defend software freedom.

If the member project's leaders want, Conservancy can also hold other assets and titles on behalf of the projects, such as copyrights, trademarks, domain names, online hosting accounts, and title and ownership of physical hardware. Also at discretion of the project's leaders, Conservancy can assist in defending the rights represented in these assets. For example, Conservancy is available to assist member projects in enforcing the terms of the projects' FLOSS license.

Finally, developers of Conservancy's member projects, when operating in their capacity as project leaders, could receive some protection from personal liability for their work on the project.

Software Freedom Conservancy, Inc., was incorporated in the State of New York in 2006.

Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Revenue

Contributions received are recorded as unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted depending on the existence and / or nature of any donor restrictions. Conservancy has not received any contributions with donor-imposed restrictions that would result in permanently restricted net assets.

Income is recognized when earned.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Organization considers all highly liquid investments available for current use with an initial maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Income Taxes

Software Freedom Conservancy, Inc., is exempt from federal income taxes under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Therefore, no provision for income taxes has been made in the accompanying financial statements.

Reclassification

Certain reclassifications have been made to prior year amounts to conform to the current year presentation.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

The costs of providing various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statement of activities. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited.

Subsequent Events

In preparing these financial statements, Software Freedom Conservancy, Inc., has evaluated events and transactions for potential recognition or disclosure through January 8, 2014, the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

Concentrations

The Organization maintains cash balances in two financial institutions. Balances in one of those institutions at times exceed federally insured limits. The Organization has not experienced any losses related to these accounts and believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk.

Note 2 - Commitment

Software Freedom Conservancy, Inc., leases its premises on a month by month basis.

Payments during the year ended February 28, 2013 amounted to $19,500.

Note 3 - Loans Receivable

Software Freedom Conservancy, Inc. loaned $132,000 to a foundation. The loan matured on July 31, 2012, and bore interest at the rate of 10%. The loan was repaid during the year ended February 28, 2013.
